

LETTER DEMANDING APOLOGY FOR LIBEL

SOLICITOR'S LETTER HEADING

The Editor,
Sunday Rain Publishers Ltd.,
Benin City.

Dear Sir,

DEMAND FOR APOLOGY FOR LIBEL

We have been consulted by Mr. AB of (hereinafter referred to as "Our Client"), in relation to a paragraph headed appearing in the Sunday Rain of the 1st of October, 2007.

The personal references are obviously directed to our client, and amount to a very serious libel.

We have to request you to submit immediately to us a draft of a clear and unqualified apology and retraction for publication in an equally conspicuous position in the next Sunday's issue of your paper. Furthermore, having regard to our client's position as, the gravity of the allegations made, and your paper's wide circulation, we demand the payment of X sum as compensation.

TAKE NOTICE that in the event of your failure / refusal to comply with the above mentioned demands within 14 days of your receipt of this letter, we have further instructions to institute a suit against you in a court of law.

Yours faithfully,

Guru Guru Esq.
